

OUR BELOVED PROPHET AT THE PLAYBOY MANSION

OUR BELOVED PROPHET MET HUGH HEFNER AT THE PLAYBOY MANSION

Rael and Hugh Hefner were meant to meet one day. Both men share the same vision on so many issues, including sexuality and sensuality and how love could stop war. It happened this week in the beautiful surroundings of the Playboy Mansion where Rael was invited. A few angels came along, including Sophie and Shizue who were both in the Playboy issue of October last year.

The stimulating conversations by the pool, the visit of the private zoo of the mansion, the laughter of the "playmates at play" in the garden, it all contributed to one of the most pleasant afternoons in this hidden paradise...

Here is an excerpt of what our Beloved Prophet told him :
We share so many ideas and ideals for the world.

What you accomplished in your life is much more important than what most of the “politically correct conservative “ people realize. As a scientist wrote recently, all war criminals like Adolph Hitler and many others had a very poor sexual life and that was why they committed so many atrocious crimes. People with an harmonious and guilt free sexual life are non violent and try to make everybody around them as happy as they are themselves.

By creating your magazine in the heart of the very conservative prudish America you helped a lot of people to set themselves free from judeo-christian guilt and then they were able to become more harmonious and spread non violent values around them .That’s why if you die in the future (as late as possible!) you will be able to do it with a clear and harmonious consciousness , being aware that what you accomplished during your lifetime was much bigger than the “erotic magazine publisher” image that people without deep thinking want to give of you. These people don’t have a clue about what really helps humanity to be better. It’s not the so called “moral values” of church goers which make the world a better place but people like you liberating the mind and consciousness of human beings from the guilt of traditions.

And for our pleasure, a very appropriate picture done by Andre Pinsonneault with a few angels surrounding our Beloved Prophet a few weeks ago in Miami.

SMOKE SIGNALS J

During the past few days, reporters have been explaining at length the process of a pope election, giving emphasis on the "elaborated" communication technique where the ballot papers are burned in a stove after every vote and chemicals are added to color the smoke, giving a black or white smoke signal to tell the world whether the 115 cardinals have agreed on a candidate or not. This is a perfect illustration of the status of the old catholic church that has been slowing down science and technology for centuries.

The Prophet Rael declared today: So...the Vatican still doesn't know about electricity, radio, speakers and telephone to inform the world about the papal election ? Smoke signals...and these are the same people who were making fun of American natives communicating this way...Come on: we are in 2005 ! And you are still polluting the earth with smoke? J

Invitation and welcoming with the Kimbangists

By Uriel

"When Our beloved Prophet was not able to respond to an official invitation of the Kimbangist Religion, to come and assist within their large temple, in Nkamba, located in the area of low-Congo in the South-west of the Democratic Republic of Congo, to an anniversary in the calendar of their Religion (what we call a gathering), considering that the schedule of our beloved Prophet did not permit for this trip, I went to represent him officially accompanied by the Guide-Bishop Jerome Ndzimba, national guide of Congo-Brazzaville. It was a marvelous experience. Some 20.000 Kimbanguists were present. Their large temple which is called ' the new Jerusalem ' was built close to the native village of the African black Prophet, Simon Kimbangu, this temple is beautiful and contains 37.000 seats.

Immediately upon our arrival in the night of April 5th , we were received by their great Spiritual leader a great grand-child of the Kimbangu Prophet, with a small word of welcome and short presentations. The following day we attended their celebrations and worship in the temple, where our delegation (Uriël, Jerome, the guide of Congo Brazza - Nika Roberte and my partner, Isis) was asked to stand up and were officially introduced in front of 20.000 Kimbanguists, who had all heard of the Prophet Raël and the Raëlian Religion, it was very moving. We all benefited from a welcoming and detailed attention. A Pastor, a Kimbanguist member and a 4x4 vehicle were placed at our disposal 24 hours a day, and the first lady, the wife of the spiritual leader who personally saw to our meals along with her staff. Splendid cottages were placed at our disposal for our lodging.

On April 7th we received a guided tour through all of Nkamba. Because their land is very vast, we drove 5 hours in a 4x4 starting from Kinshasa - on real African bush roads. It was necessary to have a solid back... therefore we were able to visit the large tower called "The City Of The Kings", built at a precise place, where according to what they say, 7 luminous machines would have appeared at the time of the Prophet, where one of the machines would have landed there, and that the Prophet would have descended from there... inside this building, at the entry to each floor there is a portrait of a small black eloha, measuring 1m20, bearing around its waist a large green belt with diamonds, and according to Kimbanguist statements' it is with these belts that the angels moved in the airs, they call these small beings "the warriors, the angels of Armageddon", and claim that it was in fact small beings like these that came in the past to help, to assist the Prophet, as well as to help their people fight the Belgian colonial army... funny isn't it :) one has already read somewhere something about these individual belts for transportation in the airJ (The messages given to our Beloved Prophet)... they showed us a lot of rather interesting things. In fact they showed us everything, except the access to the mausoleum where they keep the corpse, the body of their Prophet. That was forbidden area.

Nkamba is very beautiful, very restful. There are hills all around and it is very green. At night there is a very starry sky, and everywhere there are very accessible and very disciplined Kimbanguists. Finally, on the eve of our departure, Jerome and I had a private meeting with their great spiritual leader and his main adviser. In all cases it is a religion where we are highly appreciated, considered and liked. The Kimbanguist Church is the greatest African black religion on our planet and counts about 15 million followers in Africa and the black diaspora and they also await their equivalent of the Messiah or Maitreya which was announced by Simon Kimbangu, and we know who it is..... All is well :)

GUATEMALA

Par Daniel Turcotte

Rigoberta Menchú, a guatemalan who devoted her life to defend the rights of the indigenous people and to support their reconciliation in addition to being a recipient of a Nobel Prize for Peace in 1992, received at her office of Guatemala City on April 14th, a letter of support as well as a document which our Beloved Prophet asked us to give her. Another seed sown in the garden of Humanity which briskly carries us towards the blossoming of the conscience...

DIFFUSION IN THE UK

By Lara

Sunday afternoon in Camden Town one of the most youthful, trendy, funky centers of London

5 Raelians met to spread a Provocative message of "Sex in the City"... Are you Sexually Liberated?

This was the title of the 1000 fliers that were handed out to curious men and women enjoying this Beautiful Spring day in the sun!

We had decided we wanted to do each diffusion on a different topic, from our values to our philosophical history and hit a different area of London to stimulate the like minds with each topic....

Well we most definitely saw some eyes being caught by the word SEX... the men, if alone, commented "when and where" or made a light joke but continued to read with interest, the women had a laugh and were caught by the "Sex in the City" title and many repeated the question "are you sexually liberated?", replying yesss ofcourse in a fun self defense:-))) as I could see almost all the people took the leaflets and read right away, if with a partner either disturbed by it and or shared it with interest...and many ingroups began a discussion...

We had many laughs and jokes with people and quite a few shops asked if they could keep some of the leaflets in their store:-))) We decided after only 1+1/2 hours of dispersing them all that there were many opportunities here to Provoke interest and will be back!

Oh yes and as Our Beloved Prophet has just had a meeting with Hugh Hefner we decided to use Raelianews.org as the Linking site to take those who want to go farther with this leaflet in on this little info in the headlines:-) It was a great day of fun and laughs!

Thankyou Dear Prophet for showing us how to be Free in all ways of our Life :-)

IN FRANCE

By Elsa

On Monday evening, Nadiana, Philippe, Miki and I went to watch the movie "Va, Vis, et deviens" (Go, see and become) by Radu MIHAILEANU. That evening we had the opportunity to meet him and ask him questions for 30 minutes. It is a person who works for peace and harmony of the people. It's wonderful that we are not the only ones. Here is a link to learn a little more about him:

We gave him a copy of the Messages which he promised to examine with attention. Lots of love.

IN SRI LANKA

by Kotaro Murakawa, National Guide

The first public conference in Sri Lanka was a big success. It was held on April 3rd in Colombo city. Through ads we had placed on newspapers and e-mail contacts 16 people came to the conference, 7 books were sold and 2 people had their cellular code transmitted. One of the attendants, a 27 year old biologist consultant became an official member. She is the first member in Sri Lanka. Another man, a medical doctor who has read the books became a member as well.

I arrived in Sri Lanka on April 3rd from Japan and stayed for two days. This time I did the arrangements for the conference alone, and it was very impressive. I was so happy to see two young women and men of various ages from this Buddhist country come to the conference.

Our continental guide, Junzo visited Sri Lanka on several occasions to distribute the Messages in English to all major bookstores, and they have continuously been sold. Robert, a French Raelian who lived here during this past year, also contributed a lot, and he helped us publish the local language version of the Messages. Thanks to his contribution, I can now look forward to many more sales of the Messages in the local language version of "Singhala" through the bookshops.

It was the first time for me to hold a conference in English and to take care of doing the cellular transmission by myself, down to the preparation of the bowl of water... I was really touched by this experience, and I could imagine how our Beloved Prophet who has travelled around the world with the books and giving public conferences must have felt... The same for our continental guide Junzo who has also travelled around Asia doing the same.

On the next day, two people came to see me from a small town 150 kms away from the capital where I was located. It took them 5 hours to come on the local bus. One of the people is a Catholic priest who had been a student in Italy for two years, and had found the messages in a bookstore a few years ago, which prompted him to write a letter to the IRM. He understood that the Messages are the truth of the Bible. He is planning to quit the Catholic church as he does not want to teach in the church anymore and wishes to help the Raelian Movement. He brought a 19 year old friend of his with him who also understands the Messages. He told me with enthusiasm that he would bring more young people he knows from his local community.

I visited 4 major news papers to have interviews and all the editors were interested in our Message..

When we were having dinner together before my departure, one of the members proposed the good idea to make an e-mail group to communicate and see each other sometimes. So I started the mail group, as they can communicate in English. Please contact me at srilanka@rael.org if you would like to join our mail group to communicate with them, I will welcome you.

Hope for creationism theory through the Genographic project

Can random mutations explain the geographical genetic differences?

The genographic project is a $40m privately-funded initiative that results from a collaboration between National Geographic, IBM and charity the Waitt Family Foundation. The goal is to collect DNA samples from over 100,000 people worldwide that will be subjected to lab and computer analysis to extract genetic data. This database will be a precious tool for geneticists to extract valuable information on the way we have been conceived, based on our collective similarities and individual differences.

The objective behind the project may however slow down this process as the team wants to find out how human beings evolved and migrated from a single original location in Africa. According to the evolution theory, modern humans (Homo sapiens) appeared in Africa roughly 200,000 years ago thanks to mutations and the first moderns left the continent around 60,000 years ago. The genographic team will thus focussed on tracing the genes that have been passed on supposedly through the geographic migrations over 60000 years. They however promised to make their data available to other labs and Raelabs is eager to have access to them so that they can look at it bearing in mind another theory, the raelian creationist theory according to which 7 different scientist teams created 7 different human races.

Rael's book stated so more than 30 years ago and stipulated that one of the races that have been created is especially unique and dear to the heart of our creators, the Jewish race, created in the region of Jerusalem. A study made on the DNA of Jews from Iran, Iraq, Yemen, North Africa and European Ashkenazirn shows a similar genetic profile for all of them that is attributable to a similar geographical origin (see publications of Pr Hammer from the university of Arizona and Dr Dr. Skorecki from the university of Toronto). Evolution and creationism agree on the geographical genetic differences but disagree on the origins of these differences between human groups. The data collected through the genographic project will no doubt help to answer this question as the amount of differences between, for example, the Jewish communities and the other identified races will certainly be hard to explain by random mutations.

By the way.... On the same topic, Leon asked our Beloved Prophet whether a research on raelian genes would show a similar pattern as in the case of the Jews... He answered that it certainly would but we don't have the technology to see it yet.... Hope we can get there soon;-)
